EAST CORINTH.

Death of Mrs. Sarah Corliss at an Advanced Age, on Friday.

Mrs. Sarah Corliss died in this village last Friday. The funeral service was held at her late home on Sunday, Rev. Irving Towseley of Washington officiating. Sarah Rowland was born in this village October 6, 1817. She was married in 1844 to Dennis Tillotson, who was well known in this section as owner of the old-time stage business. He died in 1863. His widow then married George Corliss, a widower with a family of boys, for whom she cared as a mother. Mr. Corliss died in 1892. From that time Mrs. Corliss kept her own house, living alone except as she was the center of many activities, a friend in need, a nurse in sickness and always the confidant of the young people of at least three generations. She was the last of the original band of Universalists who gathered under the leadership of "Father Palmer," "coming out," as they used to say, in 1839.

Mrs. Corliss was one of a family of fourteen children. There are three of the number who survive her: Mrs. Nyliester Tillotson of Washington, aged 86; Miss Alice K. Rowland of East Corinth, aged 79; Mrs. Harriet Dickerson of Elgin, Minn., aged 75; Daniel Rowland of East Corinth, aged 77.

At the Baptist church on Sunday morning when the churches of the federation held their first service there about 225 people were in the audience. A choir of 17 voices furnished the music and Rev. Joseph Hamilton was the speaker. At the close of the service the Sunday schools met and organized with an attendance of 80.

John F. Kimball was given a ten days' notice in which to move his gasoline tank from under the piazza of the Lamson block on Merchants' row, where he has his garage, and not regarding the notice it was removed by the fire wardens, who took it to the village lot below the Kimball library. A hearing is to be had in about a week regarding the matter.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the sanatorium held in the Parish house on Monday evening, the report was in every way encouraging. Col. A. B. Chandler was present and presided and L. E. Johnson acted as secretary. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Belle Dubois, was given, showing in addition to the ordinary receipts from patients, aid societies, etc., gifts as follows: Mrs. R. J. Kimball and daughters, $50; Hon. J. P. Bass, Bangor, Me., $100. It was voted at this time to pay $900 on the indebtedness, leaving a sum of $339.91 remaining unpaid.

TRADE IS ON THE INCREASE

Fewer Idle Men and a Gradual Return of Prosperity

FEWER EMPTY CARS TODAY

And Demand Grows—Bumpers Crops Encourage Farmers and There Is a Feeling of the Approach of Better Times.

New York, July 13.—Telegraphic reports received by The World from all of the business, industrial and agricultural centres indicate a slow but steady improvement in all lines, unless it be in the building trades. Crops everywhere are reported as being more than usually bountiful. There is a marked decrease in the number of unemployed men in nearly all parts of the United States. Freight traffic, while only in a few instances normal, is shown to be nearing that desired point. The number of empty cars in storage is fast decreasing.

In the South the improvement is not great, but it is steady. In the East conditions could be much better, so far as the laboring class is concerned.

In the West the outlook is most hopeful.

In the Northwest there are few, if any, idle, comparatively speaking.

Advice to Anglers.

Of all the sports that many men are looking for and wishing to take a hand in now and then by far the best is fishing.

So get a rod and line and hook, impale a worm or cricket. Strike for a river, lake or brook in open land or thicket.

Should flies be thick or weather wet. Pray, "don't get a pucker!" Have patience, friend, and soon you'll get a catfish, trout or sucker.

Should you take home when night appears. A little fish's corpse. Don't tell your friends in after years "I was out as my purpose."

—A. L. L. in Forest and Stream.

A Modern Convenience.

A British lord of the admiralty whose knowledge of nautical detail was limited, was recently taking his first trip in a rather leaky vessel when he observed the men working the pumps. "Dear me," he said, "I did not know you had a well on board, captain, but I'm really glad you have, for I detest sea water!"—Harper's Weekly.

A Revised Nursery Jingle.

Has, has, black sheep, have you any wool? "I had, gentle master, a whole basketful, but I wandered one day in the street they call Wall."

And now of my pretty wool I've none at all!" —Lippincott's Magazine.

Neglected.

Mrs. Stiles—I do wish you'd try to keep yourself neater. Mr. Stiles—But, my dear, you're not so careful—

Mrs. Stiles—I'm not? I'm certainly more careful of my clothes than you. Mr. Stiles—Exactly. Whereas you should be more careful of me—Catholic Standard and Times.

Change of Name.

A lady there was named Maria. To whom said her husband, Josiah, "You tell me, dear, how Or such a big size They should have baptized you Sapphira." —Baltimore American.

An Observant Monk.

"You don't seem to have as much call for hammocks as you used to," said the regular boarder.

"No," answered Farmer Contossel. "I guess times have been too hard for silk stockings this summer."—Washington Star.

A Plausible Reason.

"I'll sell you $10,000 worth of this mining stock for 50 cents," urges the promoter. "It's the chance of a lifetime. Within a month it will be selling at a dollar a share."

"Then why don't you hold on to it?" asks the canny man.

"I would, but I need a hair cut and a shave. How will I look if I wait a month?"—New York Life.

Same Old Trouble.

"Spouse dar wuz a poussin for ever Do' man in de country?" "Dat wouldn't help matters any. Deyd sho climb high enough ter roost out er reach!"—Atlanta Constitution.

His Motto.

The bunko secure a motto As he goes upon his way "Never put off till tomorrow Whom you can do today."

—Smart Set.

Qualifications.

"Ever been in jail?" "No, sir." "I hardly think you'll do. I want a very smart chauffeur."—Washington Herald.

If.

If there had been one fool the more. We haven't to remark. The rate of fools had never been—Had Noah rocked the ark. —New York Sun.

Feminine Agreement.

He—Miss Debbie has such an open countenance. She—Yes, especially when she smiles. —Minneapolis Journal.
